

calculation of aerodynamic forces pdf

Understanding the motion of air around an object (often called a flow field) enables the calculation of forces and moments acting on the object. In many aerodynamics problems, the forces of interest are the fundamental forces of flight: lift, drag, thrust, and weight. Of these, lift and drag are aerodynamic forces, i.e. forces due to air flow over a solid body.

Weight is the force generated by the gravitational attraction of the earth on an airplane or model rocket. Weight is fundamentally different from the aerodynamic forces, lift and drag.

A result (also called upshot) is the final consequence of a sequence of actions or events expressed qualitatively or quantitatively. Possible results include advantage, disadvantage, gain, injury, loss, value and victory. There may be a range of possible outcomes associated with an event depending on the point of view, historical distance or relevance.

This post reviews the weird and wonderful world of high altitude wind power. It looks into the reasons for wanting to go high, explains tethered flight and explores the main competing technologies of 1) airborne generation (Google Makani) and 2) ground based generation (KiteGen) and compares their strengths and weaknesses.

Pendant les 12 à 24 prochains mois, les magasins physiques vont peu à peu connaître un repositionnement. D'ici là, ils constitueront une « destination », c'est-à-dire un endroit dans lequel les détaillants peuvent offrir un certain style de vie, partager de façon intuitive des informations sur les produits et, surtout, répondre aux attentes des clients.
