Contemporary Linguistic Analysis: An Introduction (8th

Corpus linguistics is the study of language as expressed in corpora (bodies) of "real world" text. The text-corpus method is a digestive approach that derives a set of abstract rules that govern a natural language from texts in that language, and explores how that language relates to other languages. Originally derived manually, corpora now are automatically derived from source texts.

In generative linguistics, a lexis or lexicon is the complete set of all possible words in a language (). In this sense, child, children, child's and children's are four different words in the English lexicon. In systemic-functional linguistics, a lexis or lexical item is the way one calls a particular thing or a type of phenomenon. Since a lexis from a systemic-functional perspective is a way ...
