Just to digress for a moment (as if I hadn't already), some of the Manticon attendees were asking me what I thought of today's gamebooks, and Martin Nouch's Steam Highwayman got some love. So this seems as good a place as any to point out that he's running a Kickstarter for the second SH book. If you like Fabled Lands you'll want to back this.

Spent some time on the Second Campaign this weekend. Various factors have come together and I have moved the entire campaign over to Mystara. It just made some things fit better. I knew I wanted to get the player to I1 Dwellers of the Forbidden City, though a couple of obstacles were in the way ...

Just continuing from where I left off... It was only a few weeks ago (when was Free RPG Day? A couple days after that) that I was in Around the Table Games in Edmonds and found a veritable motherlode of used D&D game product for sale, including a stack of adventure modules in near mint condition. And they were a wide variety: everything from Castle Caldwell to Queen of the Demonweb Pits to a ...
