Abstract: We prove exact rate of decay for solutions to a class of second order ordinary differential equations with degenerate potentials, in particular, for potential functions that grow as different powers in different directions in a neighborhood of zero.

The Journal of Mathematical Analysis and Applications presents papers that treat mathematical analysis and its numerous applications. The journal emphasizes articles devoted to the mathematical treatment of questions arising in physics, chemistry, biology, and engineering, particularly those that stress analytical aspects and novel problems and their solutions.

The paper reviews the application of deterministic-stochastic models in some areas of computational electromagnetics. Namely, in certain problems there is an uncertainty in the input data set as some properties of a system are partly or entirely unknown. Thus, a simple stochastic collocation (SC) method is used to determine relevant statistics about given responses.
