Objectivity in science is an attempt to uncover truths about the natural world by eliminating personal biases, emotions, and false beliefs. It is often linked to observation as part of the scientific method. It is thus intimately related to the aim of testability and reproducibility. To be considered objective, the results of measurement must be communicated from person to person, and then ...

3 The collection by Kockelmans takes some of its material from the original text Person and World, edited by the psychiatrist van den Berg and the psychologist Linschoten (1953). Person and World contains Langeveld's classical pedagogical text 'The Secret Place in the Life of the Child,' which is not included in Kockelmans.

Phenomenological Pedagogy and the Question of Meaning

Ego death is a "complete loss of subjective self-identity". The term is used in various intertwined contexts, with related meanings. In Jungian psychology, the synonymous term psychic death is used, which refers to a fundamental transformation of the psyche. In death and rebirth mythology, ego death is a phase of self-surrender and transition, as described by Joseph Campbell in his research on ...
